Interesting Cases Heard at Pincher Creek

Several cases of grazing trespass on the Dominion Forest Reserves considerable interest to ranchers generally came up for a hearing before Mr. Robert Henderson, J.P., of Pincher Creek, on the afternoon of Friday, September 19th. Louis C. Bonertz, John F. Bonertz, Anton Bonertz, Charles Age, A. Hochstein, G. G. Miller, W. F. Blackburn and Fred Burns, all farmers and ranchers in the south country, were accused of infraction of the Forest reserve regulations, in that they allowed stock owned by them to enter the forest reserves and graze thereon without having permits for such privileges. W. M. Campbell, E.C., of Macleod, and Donald Thompson, of Pincher Creek, appeared for the accused.

At the opening of the trial objection was taken to the form of information laid and the summons issued. Mr. Campbell afterward requested an adjournment of all eight cases in order to permit him to prepare his defense, and on behalf of the accused entered a plea of "not guilty." Subsequently, however, the accused decided that they would prefer to proceed with the case and the court proceedings were resumed in the evening.

At the evening session of the court, all the accused pleaded guilty to the charges laid. Thompson they were each fined $50 and costs, the total amount of fines and costs to be paid by the defendants amounting to $538.10.

Charles F. Adams, K.C., of Calgary, who appeared for the Secretary Branch of the Department of the Interior, clearly pointed out that, while it is not the intention or desire of the Department to adopt a vindictive attitude, it is nevertheless necessary that the regulations governing forest reserves should be respected; otherwise the Department is compelled to take legal action for the protection of the forest reserves.

also for the protection of those forest users who suffer injury to privileges which they have secured in a proper manner as a result of trespass by others who had not secured such privileges.

Death of Joshua Atkinson

The death occurred at Blairmore on Saturday night last of Joshua Atkinson, one of the old timers of the district. Mr. Atkinson had been ailing but a few days, having been taken ill on Friday morning.

All day Saturday he remained in an unconscious condition, until death came at 11 p.m.

Deceased leaves a wife and son, Edward, to mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband and father.

Edward has been residing at Ponsonston and arrived at Hillcrest on Wednesday morning.

Interment took place at Bellevue cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, being largely attended. The Odd Fellows Society, of which deceased was a member, had charge of funeral arrangements and about one hundred members of that organization were in attendance. A funeral service was held by the Rev. H. Peters in Bellevue Methodist church.

Would Have Prince Visit Sanatorium

At a meeting of citizens held in the town hall on Tuesday evening, a committee comprising Messrs. J. G. Gillis, A. Hamilton, M. G. Ryan, W. P. Williams, and Mayor Egan were appointed a committee to draft a message to Sir Lyon Halsey, asking that the royal party stop to visit the convalescent hospital at Frank which, passing through here enroute towards Lethbridge on October the 2nd. A committee to arrange details of programme was also appointed, including W. H. Chappell, W. J. Fisher, Lieut. C. H. Kerr, Thomas Williams, J. B. Smith and Mayor Egan. It is expected that the royal train will stop directly opposite the military hospital, when His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will visit the patients at that institution and an opportunity for a personal call will be afforded to the British throne will be afforded.

Since the above meeting was held, word has been received by Secretary Bynas, stating that it was not possible to arrange for a stop at Frank.

A Montreal judge has held that a plaintiff cannot recover a gambling debt. A broad construction placed on this decision might result in something like chaos if a number of western real estate cases were brought to trial.

The Peace River district of Canada, the drainage basin of the Peace River, lies in the northern part of the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia and contains an area of over 115,000 square miles, or 74,067,680 acres. Of this area, Alberta contains 66,898 square miles, or 42,492,800 acres, and British Columbia 49,367 square miles, or 31,594,880 acres, as stated in a bulletin issued by the Department of the Interior.

Bring Ocean Liners Nearer To West

Ottawa.—Western Canada is vitally interested in a scheme whose feasibility is shortly to be submitted for investigation before the International Joint Commission.

The governments of the United States and Canada are acting jointly in the submission to the commission of an enquiry into the deepening of the St. Lawrence river between Montreal and Lake Ontario to enable ocean-going vessels to proceed to the head of the lakes, and also to enquire into the joint development by the two countries of the three million potential horse-power.

If the plan, which is enthusiastically backed in the States, carries, it will be possible for ocean-going vessels to go inland by the new Welland canal route 2,100 miles from the gulf. It will be cheaper and facilitate the handling of the western crops by reducing freight rates compared with the cost of railway transport, and would also enable freight to be taken far inland to the west by water. The half million bushel carriers now stopping at Port Colborne could be taken to Montreal.

W. J. Stewart, Dominion hydrographer, has been delegated by the Canadian Government to act in conjunction with Colonel Keller, of the United States War Department, in determining the terms of reference to the commission.

Sir Oliver Lodge on Atomic Properties

Hope We Will Not Know Their Power Yet.

Birmingham, Eng.—Sir Oliver Lodge, the eminent scientist, in an address at Midland institute in connection with the memorial ceremonies held in the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of the death of James Watt, inventor of the steam engine, again touched upon the subject of atomic properties of matter. Sir Oliver declared that the first utilization of atomic energy was in the form of the atomic bomb. He added that if the atomic energy of an ounce of matter could be utilized it would be sufficient to raise the German ships sunk in the Scapa Flow. He said, however, that he hoped the human race would not discover how to use this energy until it had brains and muscles enough to use it properly, because if the discovery were made before this time, and by the wrong people, this planet would be unfit for habitation.

Kingston Editor Goes to Saskatoon.—One J. J. Courtland Elliott has resigned from the White editorial staff to accept the position of assistant to Prof. W. Swanson, head of the department of political science in the University of Saskatchewan, at Saskatoon. Mr. Elliott is a graduate in arts of Queen's University and is a son of J. G. Elliott, ex-president of the Canadian Press Association.

Wonderful Wireless Tests.—New London, Conn.—A radio experiment made off New London, in Long Island Sound by the experimental station, naval section, established communication, both telephone and telegraph, between a hydroplane flying nearly 2,000 feet in the air and a submerged submarine several fathoms in the water.

Would Free Land From All Tyranny

LONDON.—Premier Lloyd George, speaking before the International Brotherhood Congress, as was expected, did not touch upon many of the important questions in which the nation is deeply concerned.

The Premier was given an enthusiastic reception, and began by saying that a political platform was not involved at the meeting. "If I made a political announcement," he added, "I should feel that I was outraging the hospitality of the brotherhood."

He expressed the hope that all armaments would disappear and that the long drawn misunderstandings between Ireland and the rest of the kingdom would also pass.

"I am looking forward," he continued, "to seeing war in all forms disappear, and a new Britain springing up—a really free land, free from poverty, from the tyranny of mankind over mankind. Some people seem to think that I have accepted

German Troops For Baltic Front

All Warnings of Allies Are Disregarded in Monarchic Designs.

Berlin.—The assertion is made by the Vorwaerts correspondent that the German militia in the Baltic provinces is rapidly growing and that officers and men are arriving there daily from Germany. Even the smallest places in Courland are strongly occupied.

Posters displayed in the office of Staff Captain Stoecker, at Bank Courland, says the correspondent, read:

"Fought for the Kaiser and the empire against democracy. We had rather die than be dishonored." "Pretence is being made of the disembarking of a few units," the correspondent adds, "but troops are being transferred to Admiral Raeder's army."

School Lands For Soldiers

Manitoba Lays Six Million Acres of Unimproved Lands Before Men

Winnipeg.—By an order-in-council passed, Acting Premier Hon. Edward Brown, and the provincial cabinet played the millions of acres of unimproved farm lands on the market for returned soldiers. This is the greatest move made by the government up to the present time for the re-establishment of returned men.

The order provides for the establishment of an arbitration board to determine the price the province shall receive for its land. Geo. A. Metcalfe, administrator of succession duties for the provincial government, will act as arbitrator for the province of Manitoba. The federal government will also name a member of the arbitration board.

The land which has been thrown open is all unimproved, much of it suitable for farming. The land is known at the present time as provincial school lands. The value placed on it in the public accounts of 1918 is $13,000,000.

Fiume Isolated By Italy

Investigation Has Shown That Plan Originated in Venice

LONDON.—Fiume has been isolated from the Italian government, which is apparently taking steps to meet the situation that has arisen through the action of Captain d'Annunzio in forcibly taking possession of the city and in forcing Italian troops to leave. The veil of the censorship was drawn, and since that time little has been learned of events in the city.

Investigation of the incident has shown, according to advisers, that the plan to seize Fiume originated in Venice, the prefect of which city is said to have been involved.

Copenhagen's Fortifications

Copenhagen, Denmark.—The Politiken learns that Mr. Petersen, the Minister of Defense, has submitted a proposal for the immediate demolition of the greater part of the fortifications of Copenhagen. This means the disposal of the land and a large part of the coast fortifications would be razed.

Will Bring Down The High Prices

Judge Robinson States That Price Probe Will Cover All Necessaries

Winnipeg.—Judge H. A. Robinson, chairman of the board of commerce, declares that drastic action cutting down the cost of necessities will be taken by the board of commerce just as soon as the evidence at the different probe has been taken.

No advance on necessities will be tolerated, he said, and the board aims to prohibit the sale of all fancy goods. The retailer who takes a profit in excess of one cent per pound on any sale of sugar is liable to prosecution. This applies to Winnipeg dealers and is not limited to the East, Mr. Robinson emphasized.

Regulations covering all packing plants and including such products as butter, eggs, cured meats and cold storage products in general will be drafted shortly. The order will be very definite, Mr. Robinson said.

The board will deal with all necessities of life, including boots, and clothing, Mr. Robinson said. Prosecution will be made in every case where there is violation of the set-price by dealers. The board itself may impose the fines or imprisonment, criminal proceedings against the guilty parties.

Mr. Robinson was not ready to give an outline of the provisions to be made for checking up on violations of the board's orders, but declared that every complaint brought to the board would be fully investigated and dealt with immediately and to the full extent of the law.

Cost of living probes are about to be instituted in Calgary, Edmonton and Regina, Mr. Robinson said. He has just wired the appointment of men to take charge of these probes. Major Duncan Stewart will conduct the hearing in Calgary, S. W. Fife, in Edmonton, and James S. Rankin, in Regina.

Irish Daily Newspaper Is Suppressed

Cork Examiner Accepted Announcement of Prospective of Irish Loan

Dublin.—The determination of the authorities to repress all manifestations of republican activities is shown by the suppression of the Cork Examiner, one of Ireland's chief daily newspapers.

Although it is a constitutionalist organ and opposed to the Sinn Féin, the Examiner printed a page prospectus of the republican loan, assuming it is declared that the prohibition of references thereto which existed under the censorship lapsed with the withdrawal of the censorship.

The military authorities, however, retain full powers, and raised the prohibition and removed part of the plant. The said advertisement was offered to the Dublin dailies, which refused the risk.

Ten Regiments To Defend Fiume

Italian Nationalists, Although Suppressed, Are Still Aiding in Movement

Rome.—D'Annunzio's force, according to the Idea Nazionale, consists of ten regiments, in addition to four battalions of Fiume volunteers. He has occupied a fortified line around Fiume as a strategic position.

The citizens are supporting D'Annunzio, the newspaper adds, and are determined to destroy the town should resistance prove impossible. The Nationalists are organizing demonstrations throughout Italy in favor of D'Annunzio. The government, however, is energetically repressing these.

Riga Peace Meeting

Copenhagen.—An important conference has been in session at Riga regarding not only peace with the Soviet government in Russia, but the formation of a Baltic federation, according to advances from Lithuanian sources. There has been no actual acceptance of the Soviet government's terms, but, on the whole, it appears that the Baltic federation has materialized to the extent that an agreement has been reached for a customs union of Latvia and Lithuania.

Death of W. C. Gurney

Toronto.—W. Cronwell Gurney, president and general manager of the Gurney Foundry Company, Limited, died from heart failure while in the office of his physician. He was a son of the late Edward Gurney, founder of the Gurney Foundry Company, which he succeeded in the presidency of the company, and was in his 46th year.

Would Popularize Reindeer Meat

Stefansson Says Canada Has Finest Climate in the World

Calgary.—The finest climate in the world is the climate that is conducive to work, not idleness. I hear people praise the southern climate as a disparagement of our vigorous climate. We should never apologize for Canada's climate," said Vilharm Stefansson, explorer, addressing an audience here.

Mr. Stefansson solicited support for his campaign to popularize reindeer raising, telling some amazing facts concerning this industry in the far north, and of the possibilities of the country, saying the northern zone had a great era of civilization before it. Reindeer was produced cheaper than any meat in the world, and brought a higher price today on the market than beef.

Robbery On Mail Train

Masked Men Robbed C.N.R. Express Passing Through Quebec

Quebec.—Five masked men bound and gagged the mail clerks on the Ocean Limited, Canadian National Railway, near Harlowe, and robbed the mail bag of $250 when, after the mail had been shipped from Montreal for Halifax.

The Ocean Limited does not stop after the leaves Levin until Harlowe is reached. "At Harlowe the train had fully pulled out, according to the mail clerk, when the five masked men, armed with revolvers, rushed into the back door of the mail car, and pointed automatics into the faces of the mail crew, shouting the dramatic and business-like 'Hands up!'

The bandits' hands were gagged by the clerk, then made a dash to the bag containing the money. At St. Thomas the bandits escaped as the train slowed down. It is believed, that they had an automobile hidden in the woods near the station, and were expected to attempt to enter Maine.

Allies' Demand Agreed To

Austrians Cannot Participate in German Parliament or Government Affairs

Paris.—The written declaration concerning Article 6 of the German constitution demanded by the Allies is reported in a Berlin dispatch to have been signed by the German government. The declaration requested was that the article in question, relating to Austrian representation in the German parliament, was not to be considered as transcending the action of the peace treaty forbidding German participation in Austrian affairs.

"I suppose because we all know about what the other fellow is doing and we all have the same selling man," was Mr. Fox's reply.

Mr. Fox promised to produce a chart giving detailed information as to costs, selling prices and profits. "Superintendent Nelson," of the Davies company, said his efforts were directed toward keeping prices down and getting the business of business. The higher the selling price of any commodity, the less his concern could make out of it, he said.

At the conclusion of Mr. Nelson's testimony, Commissioner O'Connor said:

"You have undertaken to say that you are not making any profit. We will find out what the profit is before we are done here."

Wheat Crop In Alberta

Edmonton, Alberta.—W. F. Stevens, representing the Alberta government in the Grande Prairie and Peace River districts, estimates the wheat crop there to be about 8,000,000 bushels. A party of 63, members of the Edmonton Board of Trade, is now touring the districts. A marked change is noted in the policy of the settlers, there being evidence of increasing mixed farming operations.

Rumanians Are Retiring

Budapest.—The Rumanian army has begun to withdraw from Budapest, a steady movement of trains is in progress. It is believed that the retirement will be completed within a fortnight.

Lonely Bandit's Deed

Lewistown, Mont.—A lone bandit, unmasked, with a gun in either hand, held up the Buffalo State bank here, carrying with more than $600. Several posters are now searching for the outlaw.

To Try Kaiser

LONDON.—The Solicitor-General, Sir Gordon Hewart, has completed the case for the prosecution of the former German emperor, according to the Mirror. "The place for the trial has not yet been settled."

An Irish philosopher says it's all right to make hay while the sun shines, provided it is cloudy.

Food Prices Drop In United States

Million Pounds Of Bacon In Storage

Price Cannot Be Lowered

Toronto.—W. F. O'Connor, K.C., vice-chairman of the Board of Commerce, proposes that Canadian governments of bacon shall have an opportunity to get in some of the bacon sides which have been exported to the old country and sold at comparatively low prices. He intimated, after E. C. Fox, general manager of the William Davies company, and J. A. Nelson, superintendent of the Davies retail stores in Toronto, had given evidence, that a million pounds of this commodity is at present locked up in the Davies plant, awaiting a day on which the English consumer has used up the supply of Whitehorse sides he has on hand, would be called for home consumption.

To Mr. Fox's explanation that this was inferior bacon to that sold in Canada, and was sold at less cost in consequence, Mr. O'Connor said: "We have come to the stage," he declared, "where the other bacon is too expensive."

Mr. Fox said the Canadians would not buy the cheaper bacon that was sent to England. "It may be worth while to test with this million pounds to see if you have difficulty in disposing of it," retorted Mr. O'Connor.

"Decline we want you to try," he added. The commissioner told Mr. Fox that the Canadian consumer was not getting a square deal when his bacon was regulated by European selling prices. "Personally," he said, "I think it would be a good thing in Canada for those in control to say to the producers of bacon, 'You have got to supply your Canadian trade at fair prices before we allow you to forfeit that stuff of the country.'"

Mr. Fox repeatedly denied that the William Davies company was interested in any packers' combine. "Then why is it," asked Lieut.-Col. Price, counsel for the board in the enquiry, "that the prices remain about the same for one week in the stockyards?"

"I suppose because we all know about what the other fellow is doing and we all have the same selling man," was Mr. Fox's reply. Mr. Fox promised to produce a chart giving detailed information as to costs, selling prices and profits.

Superintendent Nelson, of the Davies company, said his efforts were directed toward keeping prices down and getting the business of business. The higher the selling price of any commodity, the less his concern could make out of it, he said.

At the conclusion of Mr. Nelson's testimony, Commissioner O'Connor said:

"You have undertaken to say that you are not making any profit. We will find out what the profit is before we are done here."

Russian Front Combined

Paris.—Through the capture of Onga by the anti-Bolshevik forces, communication has been established between the allies on the Archangel and Murmansk coast fronts.

French Troops Are Sent To Armenia

To Allay Unrest

Less Likelihood of a Railway Strike Among Shoppers

Toronto.—There is little likelihood of labor trouble among the railroad shopmen on the Canadian railroads, according to J. Clarke, schedule representative of Canadian railroads for the International Union of Railroaders, the headquarters of which are in Kansas City.

Mr. Clarke is in Toronto at present to allay unrest among railroad shopmen, which has been caused by the delay in dealing with their grievances, which came before the Canadian Railway Board in May and were deferred until the demands of the United States railway workers were satisfactorily settled.

The man who spends six nights out of the week away from home blames his wife because she doesn't raise the boys right.

Washington.—Reports to the Department of Justice from thirteen states indicate that there has been a decline of 10 to 15 per cent. in food prices since the time the fair price committees began their work. From four states have come reports on wholesale prices indicating a decline of from two to five per cent. "Virtually no reductions in clothing prices have been noted."

The reports on retail food prices were said to have been from cities and counties well distributed throughout the country and the information is believed by officials here to be a fair indication of what is going on everywhere. They think that results now becoming evident will be cumulative as the season advances, new declines in wholesale prices being reflected in retail prices, and additional reductions coming from the campaign against hoarding and profiteering.

Stamping Out Profiteers

British Government Classes Profiteers With Rats and Other Vermin

LONDON.—Charles McCurdy, parliamentary secretary to the Food Minister, declared that the government classes profiteers with rats and other vermin, and determined to stamp them out. Mr. McCurdy was speaking at a dinner given by the administration of the new Profiteering Act and alluded to the new Canadian statute dealing with a similar class.

Criticism against the English act is mainly on the ground that it will never touch the big profiteer, but merely render the small trader liable to espionage and persecution. Meanwhile, street markets are increasingly infested in the crowded streets. Their establishment is frequently followed by a drop in prices at the neighborhood shops.

The lack of housing accommodation is certainly a vital problem as profiteering.

Soldiers Are Homeless

LONDON.—Houseless ex-soldiers at Newport, Monmouthshire, interrupted the borough council meeting, protesting from the gallery. There were three hundred men in the town. Liverpool corporation is spending £22,000 in converting army huts into private dwellings. Other local authorities are also attracted by this temporary solution.

Marshal Foch Lost Only Son

Paris.—Marshal Foch has recently asked the Belgian government to have a search made for the body of his son who was killed in August, 1914, in the Belgian Ardennes. Marshal Foch has religiously refrained from mentioning his lost son and few knew that the younger Foch was killed earlier in the war.

British Profiteers Seized

LONDON.—The profiteering act, despite its defects, seems to have had a rapid frightening effect, for prices have already dropped in several districts.

Some local bodies refuse to appoint commissions to administer the act locally, but the refusal is generally followed by indignant protests from the inhabitants.

French Troops Are Sent To Armenia

Paris.—Ten thousand French troops are to be sent into Armenia through Mesina and Alexandretta, according to an understanding reached by the British and French for a reinforcement of their forces in Asia Minor. These troops will replace the British troops for the most part, and while the number is not large enough to keep up a line of communication far north into Armenia, it is generally believed the French will have a steady effect on the Armenian situation, even if they do not proceed far north of Mardin (Mardin) and the line of the Baghdad railway.

The interplay of Armenia is mountainous and military men are agreed that a force of 10,000 probably cannot risk an extension from the Mediterranean to Erzerum, Trebizond and other points near the Black Sea, where the Armenians are hard pressed. It is not known how soon the French forces will be able to reach Alexandria and Beirut.

Brazilian Property In Germany Is Safe

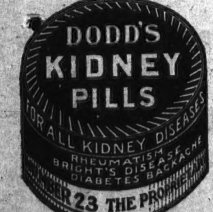

London, England.—A German wireless message states that it has only now become known in Germany that in Brazil the view is generally held that Brazilian property in Germany was confiscated during the war. In contradiction of this it can be stated that such property has been neither liquidated nor subjected to compulsion.

TEETHING TROUBLES

Baby's teething time is a time of worry for most mothers. Baby's little gums become swollen and tender; his bowels get out of order and constipation, colic or even diarrhoea sets in. To make the teething period easy Baby's Own Tablets should be given the little one. They sweeten the stomach; regulate the bowels and keep baby good natured. Concerning Mrs. Mabel D. LeBlanc, Memmuc, Conn., West. N.B., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past six years, and have found them indispensable. To my mind, nothing can equal them in allaying the fever accompanying teething. I would not be without them and can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Indemnity for New Zealand
Ottawa.—The statement attributed to Premier Massey that New Zealand expects to receive $10,000,000 indemnity from Germany is the subject of comment among members, and there is likelihood of questions in the house as to what Canada's share is likely to be. Canada's share of claims has already been filed, but it is emphasized here, what will be received cannot be estimated until all claims have been filed and the ability of Germany to pay has been determined.

Hundred Bushels To Acre

Eighteen Acres Yields 1,800 Bushels of Oats on Portage Farm
Portage la Prairie, Man.—Eighteen acres of oats yielded one hundred bushels per acre on the Fulton farm at Oakland. The land had received careful attention, but the total of 1,800 bushels was a surprise even to the producer. The oats were of the ordinary Banner variety. The land on this farm has been cropped for 40 years, and a return of this quantity indicates the marvellous soil quality of Portage Plains. The oats sold at Oakland on car at 82 cents per bushel.

New Altitude Record for America
Dayton, Ohio.—What is believed to be a new two-ton airplane altitude record, for America was set at McCook aviation field by Major R. W. Schroeder, when he ascended to a height of 29,000 feet. The world's record is held by Capt. Lang, of the British Royal Air Force, who climbed to a height of 30,500 feet with a passenger.

Long Standing Asthma.—Many have suffered so long from asthma and have tried so many so-called remedies they think that there is no real help for them. They should read the letters received by the manufacturers of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy from hundreds of cases once as desperate as their own. Even in neglected cases this famous preparation brings prompt help.

Manitoba May Build Road
Winnipeg.—If the Dominion government will not build a 72-mile railway to the rich mines north of The Pas, the Manitoba government will consider the feasibility of constructing a provincial railway. Hon. Edward Brown, provincial treasurer, intimated. Mr. Brown stated that members of the provincial government recognized the necessity of such a railroad to enable the mines to be operated, but that the building of such a line was up to the Dominion government.

U.S. To Retain Enemy Ships
Washington.—Some of the seized German liners are to be retained permanently by the United States as part of the enemy transport service. Chief of Staff March told the House Military Committee.

President Wilson has definitely decided on the allocation of the ships, he said, but asked to be excused from discussing the plan of disposal, which would be announced soon.

Korean Capital Occupied By Japanese Soldiers

Every Part of City Has Been Occupied By Japanese Troops

Tokio.—Since the attempt to assassinate Baron Saito, governor of Korea, at Seoul on September 2, every part of that city has been occupied by Japanese troops and the place is virtually in a state of siege. The would-be assassin is still at large, although a number of persons suspected of being implicated in the plot are under arrest.

The Japanese press takes the view that the bomb outrage was to have been expected, pointing out that it was almost a logical development. It expresses the opinion that the appointment of a naval officer as governor of Korea was probably impolitic and the result of poor judgment, as it only served to inflame the Koreans, who had hoped a civilian would be named. Takekoshi Inukai, leader of the Kokuminto, or national party, takes a similar view. He said that a civilian might have calmed the Koreans, who regard Baron Saito as a man of the sword, like his predecessors.

Cheese By Parcel Post
Ottawa, Ont.—According to Mr. P. Roy, Commissioner-General of Canada in Paris, France, Canadian cheese has been shipped to France by parcel post. It appears that while in France Mr. John F. Ryan, of Montreal, presented to a number of merchants in Paris samples of cheese which he had received by parcel post. The samples were sent to him in round 10-pound cylinders which had been dipped in paraffin and wrapped in ordinary wrapping paper. The cheese was received 34 days after it was mailed, and it is said to have arrived in excellent condition.

Cholera in Korea
Tokio.—Special dispatches from Seoul, Korea, say that cholera is widespread, there being a hundred deaths daily in Seoul. The dispatch says an organization has been formed to combat the disease.

GIRLS' LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER

How to Make a Creamy Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a remarkable lemon skin beautifier. At about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in. When this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to cleanse and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and mix up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW!

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freestone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved, and soon the entire corn and all, lifts out with the finger.

It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freestone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

Australia's Trade With Japan
Sydney, New South Wales.—Japan's exports to Australia have overtaken the imports, and there was a balance of trade in favor of Japan for 1918 to the extent of £2,260,000. This fact was brought under the notice of the New South Wales Government by Mr. J. B. Suttor, their commercial commissioner in the east. Mr. Suttor blamed the restrictions placed on such exportations to Japan as wool for this unfavorable position, and declared that when all restrictions were removed it was highly probable that there would ensue a handsome balance of trade in Australia's favor.

Farm Colony For Tubercular Veterans

To Be Established Shortly By the Soldiers' Land Settlement Board

Calgary, Alta.—A new colony for returned soldiers who are tubercular, and who are inclined to try farming, is to be established shortly by the Soldiers' Land Settlement Board in the forest reserve of the southern Alberta foothills.

The selection of some 20 sections of suitable land in the reserve for this purpose will be made within the next week or two. The inspection of a large area from which these 20 sections will be selected is now being made by officials of the Soldiers' Settlement Board of Calgary.

The land upon which these patients will be settled will be selected west of Claresholm, and is ideal for the purpose, which is to place these soldiers who have suffered from the effects of gas or are of tubercular tendencies upon land where the duties and requirements will not be heavy, but where the climate is suitable to their constitutional recuperation.

The farms will not be confined to one particular area, but will be distributed over a large area. The requirements to be fulfilled by those who will be placed on these farms will be light.

No Deviation From Evacuation Policy

When Ports Become Closed British Troops Will Have Left

London, England.—When interviewed at the War Office regarding certain allegations made by Col. The generals on the spot have their orders, which apply to North Russia generally, and there is no intention of holding on to Murmansk.

A funeral oration over John Barleycorn is reported from California. It concludes as follows: Let the funeral procession move hellward. Roll the whiskey barrel down the steep descent to the lowest depths, and let the red-handed, black-hearted cortege follow their dead chieftain down into a reeking oblivion where the worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched.

And the pretty American girl seized the right hand and kissed it, whereupon an American officer who was standing nearby stroiled over to the lieutenant with this late advice:

Just Common Sense

J. R. Clynes, one of the leaders of the labor party in England, and now in parliament by labor votes, spoke a profound truth in an address at Oxford University on August 7:

Scarcity of commodities is the opportunity of the profiteer. Scarcity may be caused by the war, but it causes war and continued privation to the masses of the people, whose purchasing power is limited. Workmen who deliberately restrict output or fail to accept any form of development which can make their labor more productive are punishing their own class without knowing it, and are imitating the profiteer, who thinks only of himself.

Much the same thought was voiced by the present prime minister of Australia, William M. Hughes, who came up in public life as a leader of organized labor. He was the guest of honor in London at a dinner given by a group of the most influential labor leaders of Great Britain. England's hope, he said, depended upon "the production of more wealth," and he went on to admonish labor everywhere that:

High wages will not come from words, from Lenin or Trotsky or the other imitations in this country who are trying to fool these unfortunate people who turned a deaf ear to them during the war, but now look for a short way to a better world. For five years the world has been engaged in the work of destruction. Like men who have indulged for a long period in riotous debauch, it has now got to turn with determination to the work of making good what which has been lost. It has to bear the burdens, grievously heavy, of this great war. It has to produce wealth in sufficient quantity to enable high wages to be paid.

The truth is seen in Germany, too. Vorwärts, the leading socialist organ there, laid down these proposals in a recent editorial:

"That workmen be paid according to the actual work done by them; that workmen must be made to understand that good pay is only obtainable by good work; and that capable workmen must have the opportunity to earn, by greater application to work, more than the amount represented by a fixed scale."

Our own country's agricultural and commercial newspapers are proclaiming the same truth. Ninety-three members of the committee of employees of the Midvale Steel and Ordnance company, in conference at Atlantic City a few days ago, adopted resolutions affirming that "the high cost of living needs to be abated by diligent, efficient and conscientious labor, by thrift and by avoidance of waste and extravagance. The price of commodities is regulated by the labor of a man. The only sure remedy for the high cost of living is increased production and the stabilization of prices in conformity with wages now being paid. The persistent and unending demand of workmen employed in all classes and kinds of industries for shorter days work and an increased wage in order to meet the present high cost of living is uneconomic and unwise and should not be encouraged. If labor will take these truths as a guide, we shall have peace, prosperity and progress, and great will be labor's reward. Conversely, if it should follow and act upon the false notion of what Premier Hughes so aptly termed the "power initiative" of Lenin and Trotsky, industry will slacken up, capital go in hiding, enterprises and industries languish, and the dire consequences will fall heavily upon the wage-earners and their families.

Cured At St. Anne Shrine

A cure from blindness is reported at the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre from Manchester, New Hampshire, where witnesses testify to the following story: Dora Dugre, of 183 Bell Street, Manchester, came to St. Anne's last week and spent a few days at the shrine. In a statement she signed, here is the tale she related:

"I had been blind for fourteen years, and now my eye-glasses I had to wear to prevent a scorching sensation in the eye lobes and in the head are at the shrine of Saint Anne de Beaupre. For five days I had been regularly going to the chapel and touched my eyes with the relics of the saint. On the fifth day, as I was kneeling at the altar, after applying the relic to the eyes, my eyes closed tight and for a full hour I could not open them, whatever were the efforts I made. At first I thought all was lost, but after a while, I felt my eyes revert to their pre-blindness strength, and within a few hours, I opened my eyelids to the light of the sun and fell on my knees, sobbing and thanking heaven for the miracle."

Buying Bonds Is Common Sense Act

Double Appeal To Business Instincts Of Western Farmer

Investing of profits in Victory Bonds has a particular appeal to Western farmers. The action is a sort of merry-go-round in which the farmer makes money at each turn. Not only does he gain a good rate of interest, but he secures himself of a market for his products at profitable prices.

The big business of Canada is built on foreign trade. This foreign trade has to be financed. Victory Loan proceeds provide this credit. The farmer is provided with markets.

The grain grower of the West is receiving $2.15 a bushel for his wheat, and proportionately good prices for his other products. As a matter of good business, the Western farmer is urged to invest every cent of his earnings that he can spare in these bonds.

To Exempt Those Paid Not Over $200

Appointments to positions in the Civil Service where the salary does not exceed $200 per annum are exempted from competition by an Order in Council passed August 14, as follows:—

Whereas the Secretary of State submits a report from the Civil Service Commission recommending for approval a regulation exempting persons appointed to positions where the salary does not exceed $200 per annum from competition; and whereas the Governor General in council, under and in virtue of the provisions of Section 38 of the Civil Service Act, 1918, is pleased to approve the following regulation and the same is hereby approved accordingly:—

In the case of positions where the salary does not exceed $200 per annum appointments may be made without competition upon the recommendation of the Deputy Head of the Department, approved by the Commission, unless circumstances should render desirable the advertising of the position. The report of the Deputy Head recommending a suitable person for appointment shall include a statement as to the character of his present employment, references, age, evidence as to character, the terms of the engagement and the rate of compensation. It shall also be accompanied by the declaration provided by Section 39 of the Regulations of the Civil Service Commission, to wit:—

(a) that the appointment is necessary for the efficient carrying on of the work of the Department;

(b) that the selection has been made without reference to personal or political considerations and strictly on the merits of the candidates as between persons applying of available for the position;

(c) that the person selected has satisfied the Department as to his qualifications;

(d) that he is suitable as to age, character or habits;

(e) that the salary recommended is fair and reasonable and does not exceed the rates approved by the Department or prescribed by the Civil Service Act, 1918.

HODOLIN BODILIN, U.

Chief of the Privy Council.

Since the institution of censorship, at the opening of this war, all literature circulating in Canada has been kept under supervision and the Postal, Customs, Military and Police Departments have cooperated with the Censorship to prevent the circulation in Canada of foreign language literature of an objectionable character.

The Orders in Council at present in force make it impossible for newspapers to be printed in the German, Bulgarian or Turkish languages unless by special license of the Secretary of State, in which case there would have to be parallel columns in English of the exact matter. No news language publication, unless it be of a purely literary, scientific, religious or artistic character and free from objectionable matter, can be printed in, or imported into Canada. Further, no publications in languages other than English and French can be circulated in Canada without the prompt delivery of a true copy thereof to the Chief Press Censor, Ottawa. Such copies are translated and carefully read with a view of determining their character and during the last session of Parliament very drastic amendments to the Criminal Code were passed by Parliament prescribing imprisonment and heavy penalties to those who printed or circulated matters of a malicious character. The Chief Press Censor has been in daily communication with the Postal, Customs and Police authorities with a view to enforcing the Censorship laws. Samples of foreign language literature have continually passed through the Customs Houses in Canada, and have been forwarded to the Chief Press Censor for scrutiny and a large number of publications have been placed under ban and are still under ban.

A certain amount of literature is brought to Canada in bulk by express, the secretary of the Express Traffic Association is always notified of any changes and rulings in respect to literature of the type referred to.

The Consolidated Orders respecting Censorship issued on May 22nd, 1918, provide that leaflets or pamphlets relating to the war or to the making of peace are required to have printed thereon the true name and address of the author and printer thereof. Newspapers and books are required to print the names of the publishers, or the editors or authors in order to comply with the regulations of the Post Office Services in Canada.

Editing A Newspaper

Editing a newspaper is a pleasant business—if you can stand it.

If you are an advertiser, the subscribers claim they take too much space.

If there is a scarcity of advertising, it is unpopular, and the people won't have it.

If we attend church regularly, they say we do it for effect.

If we stay away from church, they say we are monstrously heathenish.

If we accept an invitation to a wedding, they say we are invited to "write it up."

If we are on the street much, they say we neglect our business.

If we avoid going on the street, they say we don't hustle around after the news.

The Serbian Tamburica Orchestra

The Serbian Tamburica Orchestra is one of the most unusual and attractive musical companies ever presented, and is said to be a great favorite with Chautauque audiences. This Orchestra is absolutely unique—the only one of its kind on this continent.

Balkan melodies form only a part of the wonderful repertoire of the six young Serbians comprising this Orchestra. They have demonstrated that the Tamburica is an instrument of wide adaptability—operatic selections, folk songs, popular and patriotic airs are combined on the programs which have pleased hundreds of Chautauque audiences.

Since coming to the New World these young Serbians have everywhere been met with enthusiastic receptions, largely due, first, to the remarkable adaptability of themselves and their peculiar instruments to our own music; also, the growing popularity of the Tamburica among string instruments because of the volume and beauty of its tone and the exemplification of Serbian music and customs at a time when the interest and sympathy of the world is centered on the little Balkan nation.

The members of the Orchestra appear in the dress of their native land, introduce Chautauque audiences to the fighting songs and ballads of the little "ball of fire" kingdom, and render with equal beauty and freedom our own patriotic and popular airs.

THE COW PUNCHER

This was bad enough, but when the speaker went on to say that this was God's plan, that there had to be a sacrifice, and that no other sacrifice was sufficient to appease the wrath of Jehovah directed toward those whom He had created, Dave found himself boiling with indignation. If this was Christianity he would have none of it. His instruction in religion had been of the most meagre nature, but he had imbibed some conception of a Father who was love, and this doctrine of the sacrifice of the innocent crashed through all his slender frame of belief. Had he been told of a love which remained steadfast to its ideals even at the cost of Calvary, his manliness would have responded as to the touch of a kindred spirit.

The attempt to force a religious creed upon him and to make him a slave to the words, "Then what becomes of the justice of God?" It was a question that he recalled his answer, "I don't know nothing about the justice of God. All I know is the critter 'at can't run gets caught." "Was he then in sympathy with this doctrine of cruelty without knowledge?" No, Kenzie Hardy had believed in justice and he would believe in the same. He rose from his seat and walked down the aisle and out of the building, oblivious to the eyes that followed him.

His feet led him to the river, running brown with the mud of spring. He sat on the gravel in the warm sunshine, and tossed pebbles into the swift-flowing water. . . . He had determined on a new road, but how was he to find the road? Environment had never been kind to him, and he was just beginning to realize its power in shaping his destinies. He was dissatisfied, but he did not know where to find satisfaction; he was bewildered, and nowhere was a clear path before him. He was lonely. He knew a room where a little game would be in progress; he arose, brushed the gravel-stud from his Sunday clothes, and wended his way down town.

A crowd was entering the theatre which he had attended the night before. He looked at it wonderingly, as by statute the theatres were closed on Sundays. Still, it was evident something was going on, and he went in with the others. No tickets were required, and an usher showed him to a good seat.

It was not long before Dave realized that he was in a Social Hall. He knew that the theatre was a Social Hall, but he had not known that the atmosphere of the place appealed to him. They were mostly men in working clothes, with tobacco or beer on their breaths, and in their low whispering, he caught the faintest of words, "theater," "theater," "theater," which made him feel at home. When the speaker said something to their liking, they applauded him; when he crossed their line, they denounced him openly. Interruptions were frequent, and sometimes violent, but Dave admired the spirit of fair play which gave every man a chance to speak his mind. Through all his gathered thoughts, Dave saw great forces in the world, Capital and Labor, and that Capital was a selfish monster with a stranglehold on Labor, and choking him to death. No, not quite to death, either, for Capital needed Labor, and therefore only choked him until he was half dead. Also there were two classes of people in the world, the Masters and the Slaves. Dave was a Slave. He had never known it before, but the speaker made it quite apparent.

"But I'm not a slave," said Dave, suddenly springing to his feet. "I can quit my job tomorrow, and tell my boss to go to hell."

There were boos and cat-calls, but at last the man on the platform made himself heard.

"And what will you do, my friend, after you quit your job?" he asked Dave, quietly.

"Get another job," said Dave, without scintilla of the trap. "There's lots of jobs."

"That is, you would get another master," said the Socialist. "You would still have a master. And as long as you have a master, you are a slave." And Dave sat down, confused and wondering.

After the main address there was a sort of free-for-all. Half a dozen sprang to their feet, each seeking to out-talk his neighbor, and it was with difficulty the chairman obtained order and established a sequence of events. An old man in the gallery read loudly from Victor Hugo while a speaker in the orchestra declaimed on Single Tax. Finally the old man was silenced, and Dave began to learn that all the economic discourses which society in his might be heard by a position composed of Henry George. Another in the audience started to speak of the failure of the established system of marriage, embellishing his argument with more than one focal incident of a salacious nature, but he was at last required to give place to the speaker who had a more personal grievance to present.

"You talk about your masters and your slaves, and your taxes and your marriages," he cried in a shrill voice that penetrated every corner of the building. "I can tell you something about marriages and taxes. I'm hearing everywhere that this country wants its population; that is the talk of the politician, and the people think that are supposed to know. Now, what is the country doing for those who bring the population—not from the slums of Europe, that is not what I'm asking—but for those that bring the native-born population—the only population that doesn't have to be naturalized? I'm the mother of six, and what has the country done for me, but leave me at the mercy of those who charge more for an hour's attendance than my old man can save from a month's drudgery? And then, with my health broken down—in the service of the State—I have to go to the hospital, and they tell me I must have an operation, and I wake up with a horrid pain and a bill for a hundred and fifty dollars. All done in an hour, or less, and that's the bill, or part of it, for the hospital dues and the extra and extra charges. More than I can save in a year, or two years, and no one to say whether it will done or not. When my kitchen pipes are plugged a plumber fixes them and charges me a dollar, and if he doesn't, it might be his to do it over again, but when the human pipes go wrong the man-plumber charges a hundred and fifty dollars, and if he doesn't do it right he collects just the same, and the undertaker adds another hundred. Now I don't know whether this comes under the head of Capital or Labor or Single Tax, but I do know it is outrageous extortion—extortion of blood money, imposed by the wealthy and prosperous on the poor and the sick and the unfortunate, and while the State clamors for population it does not raise a finger to protect those who are bringing the native-born."

During this philippic Dave had turned toward the woman; her face still bore the marks of refinement and even his uncultured ear recognized a fair degree of education. He was broken; crushed with the joint cares of motherhood and poverty, and—suffering the domestic duties of a system that capitalized her sacrifices. He had heard much talk of slaves, but here, he felt, he saw one, not in the healthy, well-fed man with their deep mutterings against employers, but in this haggard woman from whose life the lamp of joy had been snuffed out by the bitterness of suffering and physical exhaustion.

He spent the rest of the day alone, thinking. He was not sure of

If Breath Comes Hard If Nose Is Plugged You Have Catarrh

Perhaps you haven't heard of the new remedy—it's so pleasant to use—like the nose, throat and lungs with a local balsamic vapor, like the air of the pine woods. It's really a wonderful remedy—utilizes the nostrils and sinuses—only found in the Blue Gum tree of Australia.

The name of this grand specific is Catarrhoxone, and you can't find its equal on earth for coughs, colds, catarrh or throat trouble. You see it's no longer necessary to drug the stomach—that spoils digestion—just simply inhale the balsamic essences of Catarrhoxone, which are so rich in healing power they drive out every trace of Catarrh in no time.

For speakers and singers and persons troubled with an irritable throat, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh or the grippe, Catarrhoxone is of inestimable value.

The inhaler can be carried in your pocket and may be used at any time or in any place.

any road, but he knew that his mind had been made to think, and that his life was bigger than night that had been in, and morning.

He found the right road at once, but he could at least leave the old one. He left a strange hunger to understand all that had been said. He felt, also, a tremendous sense of his own ignorance; tremendous, but not crushing; a realization that the world was full of things to be learned; problems to be faced; conclusions to be studied out, and underneath was a sense almost of exaltation—that he should take some part in the studies and perhaps lead in the solutions. It was his first glimpse into the world of reason, and it charmed and invited him. He would follow.

He went early to bed, thinking over all he had heard. His mind was full, but it was happy, and in some strange way, even the morning service came back with a sense of worthwhileness as he recalled it, in the consciousness of approaching sleep. . . . The music had been good. It had been good of spring and the deep woods, and water. . . .

It was about a far-away land, and Kenzie Hardy. She was very like Kenzie Hardy.

CHAPTER SEVEN

Fortunate life, or whatever good angel it is, that sometimes drops a ray of light upon a man's path. . . . Eliden should the following day deliver coal at the home of Mr. Melvin Duncan. Mr. Duncan, tall, quiet, forty-five, was at work in his garden as Dave turned the team in the morning and walked them up the long, narrow drive connecting with the family carriage. As the heavy wagon moved straight to its objective Mr. Duncan looked on with approval that heightened into admiration. Dave shovelled his load without remark, but as he stood for a moment at the finish, wiping the sweat from his coal-grimed face, Mr. Duncan engaged him in conversation.

"You handle a team like you were born to it," he said. "Where did you get the knack?"

"Well, I came up on a ranch," said Dave. "I've lived with horses ever since I could remember."

"You're a rancher, eh?" queried the older man. "Well, there's no one like the range and the open country. If I could handle horses like you there isn't anything would hold me in town."

"Oh, I don't know," Dave answered. "You get mighty sick of it."

"Did you get sick of it?" Eliden shot a keen glance at him. The conversation was becoming personal. Yet there was in Mr. Duncan's manner a certain kindness, a certain appeal, of sincere personality, that disarmed suspicion.

"Yes, I got sick of it," he said. "I lived on that ranch eighteen years, and never was inside school or church. Wouldn't that make you sick?"

"So I beat it for town?" "And I suppose you are attending school regularly now, and night school, too?"

Dave's quick temper fired up in resentment, but again the kindness of the man's manner disarmed him. He was silent for a moment, and then he said, "No, I ain't. The more I think about it, I came in here, intend to get an education, and I've never even got a start at it, except for some things perhaps wasn't worth the money. There always seems to be something else in ahead."

"There always will be," said Mr. Duncan, "until you start."

"I suppose so," said Dave, wearily, and took up the reins.

But Mr. Duncan persisted. "You're not in such a hurry with that team, he said. "Even if you are late—"

even if you should lose your job over it—that's nothing to setting this matter of getting started with an education."

"But how's it to be done?" Dave questioned, with returning interest. "Schools ain't books cost money, and I never saw a dollar."

"And never will," said Mr. Duncan, "until you start. But I think I see a plan that might help, and if it appeals to you it will also be a great convenience to me. My wife likes to go driving Sundays, and sometimes on week-day evenings, but I have so many things on hand I find it hard to get out with her. My daughter used to drive, but these new-fangled automobiles are turning a new upside down, and—many a buggy with it. They're just numerous enough to get dangerous. If there were more or less they would be all right, but just now every horse is suspicious of them. Well—as I saw you driving in here I said to myself, 'There's the man for that job of mine. If I can get him, but I'm not rich, and I couldn't pay you regular wages. But if I could square the account by helping with your studies a couple of nights a week—I used to teach school, and haven't altogether forgotten—what that would be just what I want. What do you say?"

The King And His Servants

Servants Were Guests of the King and Queen at a Garden Party

The servants of the royal household and their wives and families were the guests of the King and Queen at a garden party in Buckingham Palace on a recent afternoon.

The party was a "strictly private" one. The palace guards and their families were invited, as well as the workers in, and about the royal residence.

The band of the Royal Household played during the afternoon, and there were performances also by the Southern Syncope Orchestra from the Philharmonic Hall and a negro jazz band. The jazz band played in the amphitheatre formed by the bed of the palace lake, which was drained early in the year to hamper the operations of enemy aircraft. Tea was served in great quantities.

The royal family joined their guests in the grounds immediately after tea and remained till the end of the programme, which included a French and Irish show for the little ones. This was enjoyed as much by the grown-ups as by the children. The King and Queen laughed as heartily as the youngest of their guests.

Princess Mary joined in the dancing of the children. The entertainment was timed to last from 4 till 6.30 p.m., but the youngsters were so happy that the time was extended by nearly an hour. The King and Queen chatted with all.

The Need for Thrift

At the bottom of the solution of the cost of living problem is willingness to work in the production of essential things; to go without for a time, if needs be, the unnecessary ones. A great deal would be accomplished if every individual would take counsel with himself, as he would do if we were still at war, as to whether he is contributing his share to production. Perhaps this is too much to expect, human nature being what it is. But, however much we may theorize, and however far we may seek for the remedy in the nostrums of economic quacks, we shall get no necessary article, more cheaply until we have produced more.

Java's World Trade Jumps

Salt Lake City, Utah.—Java's world trade has jumped from $4,000,000 annually before the war to $80,000,000 a year, according to J. A. Barkley, Indonesian expert of Java, who is visiting the trade centres in the United States, and who is a visitor here. He said that Java was not affected with the high cost of living, certain women laborers receiving only 10 cents a day and being able to "get along" on such a sum.

Rumanians Requisitioned 71,420 Pairs From Asylum in Budapest

Paris.—Advice of further requisitions in Hungary by the Rumanian troops of occupation were received by the supreme council of the peace conference. It was not until a September 10 the reports stated the Rumanians requisitioned 71,420 pairs of shoes from the orphan asylum in Budapest. Of these the great bulk were shipped to Rumania, only 8,000 pairs being left in the orphanage. The orphanage officers expressed the fear that these also would be taken under the guise of military requisitions, leaving the orphans shoeless for the winter. Many other cases of alleged looting were reported to the supreme council.

The Needs of Today

Today we are paying the price of war and its waste. To overcome this we must be over-industrious and practice such frugality as we have never known before. This is true patriotism today. Conservation of food, clothing, shoes—no higher lavishly—to what this country needs from us. More constructive harmony in all we do, and less waste of energy in class hatred will bring results we all long to have established.

Great Britain's War Forecasts

New Zealand Officer Describes Them As Marvellously Accurate

Wellington, New Zealand.—New Zealand's military officer, Brigadier-General Richardson, amazed the members of the New Zealand Club recently when he described how marvellously accurate were the British forecasts in 1912 of the world war.

General Richardson attended secret and confidential lectures given to officers attending the British staff college. They were told that as soon as the Kiel Canal had been deepened Germany would find some pretext for war with France, probably in the autumn of 1914 or in the early spring of 1915. The French army would fall back, also the British army if it was in France, and Paris might be captured by the Germans, but the fall of the capital would not end the war. If Britain were to maintain an army of 1,000,000 men, conscription would be necessary.

The lecturer also stated that the German fleet would not seek a decisive combat with the British until it had thinned down the British fleet by mines and submarines. Germany hoped to sink one British ship a week by these agencies, and then to strike, say in 12 months from the declaration of war.

Butter For Paris

Opportunity for Canada to Sell Forty Tons a Day

Paris will use 80,000 pounds of Canadian butter daily, if Canadians are willing to ship them, according to Philippe Roy, Commissioner-General for Canada in France. Mr. Roy says that samples from Canada have arrived in Paris in good condition after 36 days en route. Before the war France imported most of its butter from Siberia, but now that supply is cut off and will probably not be available for five years.

Napoleon Was Offered An Air Service

Campenas Drew Up Plans of Airship to Accommodate 200 Persons

The great progress made in aviation during the last few years recalls the fact that as long ago as in 1796 a Frenchman named Campenas drew up plans, which he laid before Napoleon, for the making of an aerial ship to accommodate 200 persons, and which he hoped could be directed to any point of the compass.

The inventor's letter deserves reproduction: "I myself will be your pilot. You can trust without any danger over above the fleets of enemies jealous of our happiness, and thunder against them like a new Jupiter, merely by throwing perpendicular downwards firebrands made of a substance which will kindle only by the contact and percussion at the end of its fall, but which will be impossible to extinguish. Or, perhaps, you will think it more prudent to begin at once by forcing the British Cabinet to capitulate, which you may easily do as you have it your power to set fire to the city of London, or to any of the maritime towns of England."

Campenas assured Napoleon, his airship could travel from Paris to London, destroy the place, and return to Paris within twenty-four hours.

Napoleon refused to countenance the scheme, however. And it is interesting to note in this regard, that in the early days of the war aeroplanes were used, both by the allies and the enemy, solely for scouting purposes, and pilots of both sides exchanged greetings when they passed each other. It was not until a German pilot shot at a British that each side took to arming their own craft, and battles in the air became inevitable.

The local editor went one evening to attend a party in a house recently blessed with a new baby. He met the hostess at the door, and after the usual salutations he asked after the baby's health. The lady, who was quite deaf, and suffering with the grippe, thought he was asking after her cold and answered that although she usually had one every winter, this was the worst one she had ever had. It kept her awake nights a good deal and at first confined her to her bed. Then, noticing that we were getting nervous, she said she could tell by our looks that we were going to have one just like hers and asked us to go and lay down.

A quart of whiskey got mixed up with feed and was given to a cow the other day. Half an hour later the animal was bellowing down in front of The Enterprise office: "We won't go home till morning," or something to that effect, and treated a passer by to a couple of "barns," and acted in a very reprehensible manner generally. When she sobored up she jumped over the Lyon Creek bridge and broke her neck. This shows the superior intelligence and good sense of a cow over the average belligerent person. When the latter gets drunk and makes things hot, instead of jumping over a bridge and breaking his neck when he gets sober, he immediately begins to lay the foundation for another roaring drunk.

Education Pays on The Farm!

Statistics show that farmers who have an education make larger incomes than those who have received but little schooling. An education is more necessary now than it was thirty years ago. Farming has changed greatly in this period. Then, farmers cut their grain with a cradle, bound it by hand and threshed it with a flail. They ground their grain between stones and lifted the water out of the mill by buckets. They treated their weeds with the hoe and "harrow" and "roll in the fall" and planted their grain "in the moon." The horse and the ox were their only means of transportation. The farm houses had no conveniences. They were lit by candles; the kitchen equipment consisted largely of hard work. Now, the farmers have larger farms, they cut and bind their grain with binders and thresh with engine-driven separators. They frequently plow with tractors and many own automobiles. They select varieties of grain that are known to give larger returns than the ordinary varieties. They treat their seed to control diseases and plant at rates per acre, which experiments have shown to give maximum yields. They select improved types of breeding animals and feed their stock in accordance with knowledge derived from the chemistry of foods. The farm houses have been greatly improved. To keep up with the times and to make the most money from the farm one should know how to farm in accordance with the most improved methods. You can learn these methods at the Old School of Agriculture. Education pays you can learn in a few months what it would take years of experience to give you. Talk with any ex-student regarding the value of the course.

Classes in Agriculture and Domestic Science commence on October 20th. For particulars write: F. S. GRISDALE, Principal School of Agriculture, Olds, Alberta.
